

Ground rules

Remember the three simple ground rules to ensure the session is an enjoyable time of learning together:

1. Respect each other – Don't share anything that would embarrass your partner or others in the group.
2. Maintain personal boundaries – You can pass on any question you don't want to answer.
3. Be confidential – Whatever is said in the group stays in the group.

- What insights or encouragements did you gain from your Couple Time?
- Was there anything in the Introductory Reading for this session about communication that prompted you to think about the subject in a new way? Explain.

A How are we communicating?

We all have different ways of communicating depending on our personalities and experiences. As couples we tend to develop patterns of communication which can become habits, for good or bad. Also, our modern way of life can squeeze out time for each other. If we want to grow a close relationship we need to be able to communicate well. This will mean dealing with those things that might prevent it happening.

Chris and Carol

Chris and Carol have had a long, hard day. At last the children are in bed and Carol settles down to watch the television

Chris: (cheerfully) I noticed that new people moved in across the road. Maybe we should invite them over for a drink tomorrow evening?

Carol: Mmm ... if you like.

Chris: Or we could invite them for dinner or a BBQ at the weekend? We could invite Brenda and Harry next door too – we haven't seen them for ages. It would be good to do something fun ... you know what they say about all work and no play ...

Carol: (not really listening) OK.

Chris: Sales are down again this month ... that's two bad months. People are getting nervous ... there's talk of redundancies. (Pauses for a moment) Carol, I don't think you're listening to me.

Carol: What?! (reasonably gently) Look, Chris, I'm trying to watch this. Can we talk about work later?

Chris: When does it finish? I've been wanting to talk to you all week ... I was hoping to get an early night tonight ... after all, this is Friday night!

He looks at her intently hoping she'll get the hint.

Carol: (Glued to the TV and not even looking up) OK – I'll see you later love.

Chris: Carol, that's not what I'm saying, I ...

Carol: (Interrupting) I'm sorry Chris. I just want a bit of time to wind down. Is that a problem? I've had people, meetings and decisions all day long and it's just nice to come home and switch off from everything. Would you mind making me a coffee while you're up, please? We can talk later, OK?

Chris doesn't reply but leaves quietly for the kitchen to make drinks. He returns and hands Carol a coffee. For a moment he hesitates as if to say something, but doesn't and then moves towards the door.

Chris: Don't wake me when you come up.

He leaves, closing the door behind him.

Carol: (To herself.) At last, some peace ...

She pushes away thoughts about the look of disappointment and hurt on Chris's face as he left, and tries to enjoy her TV programme.

1. What do you notice about Chris and Carol's communication – good and bad?
2. If this were a typical pattern of interaction, how would it affect their relationship? What could they do differently to improve communication?

Foundation Principle:

Good communication means making our marriage partner a priority.

Opportunity to prepare for Couple Time

A How are we communicating?

Take a moment by yourself to prepare for your Couple Time by thinking about how you communicate in your marriage.

Note three things that you want to talk to your partner about:

- i. an area where our communication is working well.
- ii. an area where some change might be helpful.
- iii. a practical idea to help me make regular time and energy for good communication.

In your Couple Time be prepared to talk about your answers and what you can do to help each other communicate better.

B Communicating at deeper levels

1. What do you think might make communication within a Christian marriage distinctive?

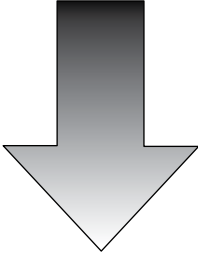

Creation design

The heart that breaks open can contain the whole universe.

Joanna Macy

In the creation account in Genesis we read that God makes marriage part of His design for human relationships. His plan for marriage is a level of intimacy between husband and wife in which the two are so close that they are 'one'.³ This requires open communication at deeper levels. The apostle Paul affirms the general principle in the New Testament to open wide your hearts.⁴

2. The following diagram⁵ (page 24) shows different levels of communication. Each level requires different degrees of openness (transparency) and of trust. Think of some examples of potential communication between Chris and Carol for each of the five levels.

Communication level	Degree of openness and trust increases moving through levels 1 to 5	Meaning
1. Cliché		Non-sharing
2. Fact		Sharing what you KNOW
3. Opinion		Sharing what you THINK
4. Emotion		Sharing what you FEEL
5. Transparency		Sharing WHO YOU ARE

3. Many marriages can 'tick over' from day to day with communication rarely going below level 3, like 'marriage business partners' getting on with all that needs to be done. This can lead to a shallow or unsatisfying relationship.

- What is the role of listening in reaching deeper levels of communication?

*Don't knock the weather;
nine-tenths of people
couldn't start a conversation
if it didn't change once in a while.*

Kin Hubbard

The root of communication problems

Adam and Eve, the first couple, are described as being 'naked and without shame'.⁶ Then, in Genesis 3, Adam and Eve doubt God's loving provision for them. They disobey His instructions, giving in to temptation and eating the forbidden fruit. In this symbolic act God's authority is challenged and the whole created order is corrupted with far-reaching consequences. Enter: shame, blame and fear. They hide from God. They also hide from each other – the openness that once existed between Adam and Eve turns to hiding behind coverings made of fig leaves.

4. God intends couples to be 'naked and without shame'.

- What do you think this means for the way we communicate as a couple?
- Why do we tend to hide our true selves from each other?

Foundation Principle:

Good communication means growing in deeper understanding, which requires openness and trust.

B Communicating at deeper levels

- i. Think about the following statements and how they express your thoughts and feelings. Put your initials somewhere on the line to reflect how you see the issue.

	almost never	sometimes	often
I think we share goals & dreams freely with each other.	_____	_____	_____
I am able to express my feelings openly.	_____	_____	_____
I find misunderstandings tend to grow between us.	_____	_____	_____
I think we tend to avoid uncomfortable issues.	_____	_____	_____
I think I am able to express my needs to you.	_____	_____	_____

- ii. Now put your partner's initials somewhere to describe how you think your partner currently sees the issue.

In your Couple Time be prepared to talk to your partner and explain why you placed your initials where you did.

C Growing in trust and openness

Since the 'Fall' in Genesis 3, relationships have been corrupted by fear. We fear punishment from God because of our sin, so we hide from Him. Other kinds of fears affect our relationships with people – fear of rejection, fear of being hurt – and so we may hide from them.

God reveals who He is – with total transparency – through Jesus. We do not need to fear punishment from God because He showed us His unconditional love by sending Jesus to die for us. His sacrifice dealt with sin and restored our damaged relationship with Himself. The good news of the gospel is that it can set us free to live the way God intended as husband and wife.

There is no fear in love. But perfect love drives out fear, because fear has to do with punishment. The one who fears is not made perfect in love.

1 John 4:18

Once we are sure that God will not punish or reject us, we can respond by coming out of hiding. As we begin to trust Him more we will be able to increasingly open ourselves up to Him. This new pattern of communication with God can have a knock-on effect on our communication with our partner.

1. In what ways can a relationship of growing trust and openness with God affect the communication in our marriages?

Foundation Principle:

As we become more secure in God's unconditional love for us, we will be able to communicate more openly as a couple.

C Growing in trust and openness

- i. What could I say to my partner to affirm him/her? How much do I trust him/her? Write down something positive below.
- ii. How free do I feel to open myself up to God – how much do I trust Him?

In your Couple Time be prepared to talk about your answers and what you can do to help each other to grow in openness and trust in your communication, with God and with each other.

... And finally
